Expression of Interest to Host STSM

This is a general expression of interest from our side (Department of Bioanalytical Instrumentation, jointly at CEITEC Masaryk University/Academy of Sciences of the Czech Republic, Brno to host a STSM).

We can offer to provide a basic know-how to operate and build a CE system that could be eventually used as portable analytical system for a defined application.

This STSM is intended mainly for a student/Ph.D. student who would come for a minimum of 1 week (basic operation of CE) for up to 1-2 months (building an own portable CE system, learning basic operation of a CE system, development of a specific application) fostering the cooperation /common project initiation among the involved institutes.
